PRESIDENT'S REPORT

February meeting past, and remembering Jean Dueck

Continuing on with the directions received from chapter members several months ago, our meetings will encompass a new activity, that of 50-50 draws and the occasional auction to bolster the Jean Dueck fund. For those of our members who attended the delightful pot luck supper, they will recall that chapter member John Mader generously donated a collectable autographed book biography by famous pilot Douglas "Wrong Way" Corrigan. Not only did John donate this book to the cause, but he skillfully auctioned it off to our chapter members and the fund ballooned by over a hundred dollars. Good show John. As of yet, our chapter executive have not yet worked out a method of making this Jean Dueck fund available to female aviators, but this will be established in due time. Not only is this fund an excellent way to recognize, Jean, an outstanding person and aviator in our group, but it will put our EAA Chapter 1410 in the news as a supporter of a good cause.

And speaking of February, we were entertained at our regular Thursday meeting by Phil Ward, explaining with power point photos and movies the work that Kenn Borek air is doing to support the Canadian government land claim for undersea expansion under UNCLOS. Never before has our little chapter had a presentation containing insights into an operation of national importance. Our government is actually sending a remote guided torpedo submarine under the ice to sonar map our ocean floor. I hope we get other updates from Phil.

At the present your chapter president is sitting on an outside deck chair in the warm sun of Palm Springs. My only reminder of my sometimes aviation activity is the occasional rumble of a P and W 985 clawing an open cockpit Stearman into the skies over the city, taking another aviator on a fun trip. My occasional view of the Alberta weather on line prevents me from returning just yet. I will miss the March meeting, vice president Ralph Inkster will competently run things in the meantime.

Our presentation this month will be the Transport Canada 2013 Self-Paced Study quiz. This will satisfy our 24 month training program requirements per the CARS.
