Linda's Story

Captain Linda Sollars, MBA, CPCC, ATP, A&P

The year she turned 60, Linda built her dream aircraft at the kit manufacturer's factory in South Africa (Sling) and embarked on an epic 9,000-mile journey, flying alongside two other brand-new aircraft from Southern Africa to the renowned Oshkosh Airshow—crossing 2,100 nautical miles of the Atlantic along the way.

What began as a personal passion project evolved into something far greater, inspiring people of all ages around the world. But beyond the adventure, Linda applied aviation decision-making and quality models not only in the airline and private cockpit, but in her own life—guiding choices that shaped a career, an adventure-filled life, and a mindset of resilience and leadership.

Come hear Linda's story—one of bold decisions, calculated risks, and lessons that just might help you navigate your own path with greater clarity and confidence.
