Editors Notes

As Wisconsin winters go, this has been a most gentle one and the calendar indicates that spring flying weather is not far off. The intrepid airmen in the Wausau area have been very busy with their building and modification projects. Last month we reported that Gordy Radtke had received his new Chinook kit and that with the help of many chapter members, construction was nearly completed. I was privileged to be at Gordy's hangar for the first rollout. You can see a picture of this event in the Picture Gallery. Great work Gordy and crew!

Gordy attempted taxi tests on that same Sunday but tight rudder controls and a slippery runway delayed the first flight. Controls have been corrected and Gordy has over five hours on it at this writing. The smile on his face will tell you all you need to know about its performance.

Dan and Steve have been busy upgrading their 500, new engine and various modifications. We hope that other winged things will emerge from their cocoons as the sun warms our piece of the earth. Bring your pictures and reports to our next meeting. We're sad to report that two of our members lost loved ones in the last few weeks. Mark Blumes' step-father passed away as did Karen Kruegers' mother. Our condolences Mark, Karen, Steve and families.

We don't wish to shorten the snow-mobilers already short season but let's get those Rotaxes airborne!
