Editors Notes by Bill Markstrum

It's late evening of Easter Sunday and I'm way behind time in submitting my monthly Editor's Notes.

I hope that all of you had a meaningful religious holiday during Easter and Passover, and that you enjoyed family togetherness. I noted that Syd Cohen's plane was back from Sun and Fun in time for Passover. Hopefully, I will get to visit with him to hear the details of that Florida-based "AirVenture." At least it won't be the horror story of a recent past windstorm event that demolished so many aircraft that year.

Speaking of friend Syd, I am reminded of a visit from Syd a couple of years ago. It was nearing Easter and Passover when he stopped by. Several weeks before his visit I had stepped off my front porch onto some ice and went down for the count, slicing my hand open. To help myself get up, I took hold of a white porch post, leaving a significant blood stain on it. I proudly pointed out to Syd that my front door post was properly marked for Passover. He disagreed, saying that the blood was to be from a lamb. My wife, standing nearby, added, "Yes, not the blood of an Old Goat!" I get no respect!

As noted in last month's Newsletter, Brian Krueger is now a full-fledged airline Captain. Since my notes were somewhat religious up to now, I'll pass along this story I heard a week or two ago that he might find encouraging.

It seems that an old Airline Captain and minister died and arrived at the Pearly Gates at the same time. The Lord greeted them warmly and handed the Captain his Heavenly robe. It was of a fine-woven material with gold ornamentation. When the Minister received his cloak, it was of a plain material with little ornamentation. He was rather put out by this and complained to the Lord. After all, he had been a "team player." The Lord patiently explained that, yes, while the minister was indeed a member of the Lord's "team," during his overly long sermons, most of his congregation would fall asleep. In the Captain's favor, whenever he was flying the plane, all of his passengers were "praying."

Now, Brian, we're not saying you should "scare the Hell" out of your passengers. We know you won't.

I note that our next chapter meeting will be at the Stevens Point Airport on April 21st. I always look forward to our meetings there, since most of our members from Wild Rose are able to make the scene. We can get updates on Brett Wilke's projects and Don Mahn's Pietenpol. See you there, guys and gals.

At that April meeting we should hear the highlights of the recent Safety Seminar at Oshkosh. Those of you who attended hopefully walked away with a few good tips on flying and maintenance, and some nice raffle prizes. Let's hear all about it.

Tuesday Night Fly-In Forum

Happy spring everyone! The days are getting longer and the weather warmer. And most exciting, the grass strips are almost ready to use!! Now we need volunteers to host Tuesday Night Fly-Ins.

Just like last year, there are no special requirements, just a place to land and park. Food and drink are not required. There is no need to make it a big event (unless you really want to...)

If you don't have a private/grass strip, you are not out of the picture either. If you would like to host a fly-night at your home airport, just sign up. We're not picky, we'll fly anywhere.

Pick a night from the list below and contact me. They will fill fast, so don't delay. We'll get the list up on the Chapter 75 website and publish it in this column every month through the season.

Fly nights will be held on the first and third Tuesdays of the month. (rain delay is the following Tuesday)

Please contact me at my e m a i l :
theav8rweb@yahoo.com or my home: 715-536-5326 or my cell during the day: 715-218-8002.
