Quote of the month:

"As long as you fly within your own limits and the limits of the machine you will be OK"

-Robert A. "Bob" Hoover

Last Month at Thomas P. Stafford Air and Space Museum :

Now I wasn't able to attend the fly out. So I don't have anything to report for this trip. If you also missed out, plan to get to the museum one way or another in the future. This really is a great place to get very close to real space and missile hardware. You gain a real appreciation for just how complex these machines are that take our astronauts into space.

If anyone has pictures or a write up they would like to share please send them my way.

Not real fancy. But full of some interesting information. For some this may be new but for many it will just be a reminder of a lot of great Aircraft, Engines, and pilots

BIG CONGRATULATIONS TO ROBERT HENSON FOR SOLOING
