January 2013

President's Message

We had 26 folks at the December meeting at the AirZoo classroom. The December meeting was a flying "trip report". The Hulls in their RV-7A joined the Butchers in their Europa on a trip this past fall to Page,

AZ. Page airport was the site of a fly-in / fly-out. We flew in (that's the fly-in part) to Page and for several days launched on mini trips (that's the fly-out part) to nearby attractions like Grand Canyon, Monument Valley and Lake Powell.

The January meeting will be our annual Holiday Winterfest get-together. Our guest speaker will be Andrew Woodstock, an artist and private pilot from Plainwell, MI. Andy has entered the past couple Grand Rapids Artprize competitions. You will probably recognize his entry this year, an eight by sixteen foot watercolor painting entitled Tuskegee Airmen. I pulled this profile from the Artprize website:

"I love to draw. No matter what your age or background - drawing is ALWAYS FUN! I've pursued drawing and illustration as a vocation my entire adult life. I received my degree from the Kendall School of Design in Grand Rapids Michigan. Honors have included my work shown at the Society of Illustrators in New York City as well as ADDY awards in Michigan, and Tennessee for illustration as well as graphic design. Cartooning, Illustrating and graphic design have financially supported my family, my education, and my flying. I've participated in art exhibitions in Michigan, Tennessee, Georgia, New York City. My wife Sherry and I now own Woodstockarts Design & Illustration in Plainwell Michigan."

Please join us for a fun and enlightening evening.
