Chapter 289 Newsletter Around the Patch

Flag hanging in Bruce Beecroft Hangar.

Around the Patch and now on Final

Greetings 289ers! It's midyear reality setting in HOT SUMMER, BIG THUNDERSTORMS, WIND DAMAGE. YIKES!!! ALL the things we were looking forward to all spring!

Last but NOT LEAST OSHKOSH CONVENTION in only a couple weeks (July 25-31, 2022). IF YOU HAVEN'T EVER BEEN THERE, we hope YOU CAN experience AIRVENTURE THIS YEAR. We've attended most years and sadly just NOT SURE we're gonna make this time. VERY ODD circumstances.

Let's add SPECIAL ENCOURAGEMENT to our young people who are LEARNING TO FLY RIGHT NOW EXCITING INSPIRATION!!!!!!

Let's also NOT FORGET our very own PANCAKE BREAKFAST on Saturday 16 July and our Wings and Wheels Pancakes on Saturday 20 August.

Our members ARE ACTIVELY BUILDING AIRCRAFT, FLYING, SOCIALIZING, and supporting 289 EVERY DAY.

THANKS EVERYONE!!! Bruce B.

Young Eagle Rallies Chapter 289

Chapter 289 Young Eagle rallies have been postponed until fall 2022 months. This is due lack of pilots willing to volunteer to help out.

Board would like to have all pilots especially younger pilots volunteer to YE Kids Rides. The Kids really enjoy the ride. A few go on to get their pilot training and license.

All Pilots will need to complete Background check see below.

Young Eagles Volunteer Pilot background check

EAA.org website then Youth & Young Adult menu. Pull down and click on "Free Young Eagles Flights".

Page down to "Because a Volunteer Pilot" click for next page.

Click on 2. Complete EAA's Youth Protection Training and background check

Next page will be EAA Youth Protection Policy and Program.
Just follow instructions to complete Background check.

July 2022 Safety Tip submitted by Dale Knuth

Don't Get Caught By Surprise

We all have them “surprises” the unexpected when flying. It's our response or delayed responses to the unexpected that can kill you.

Some examples of unexpected events during flight that could crop up and cause an emergency (or an accident, if it is not managed properly) include:

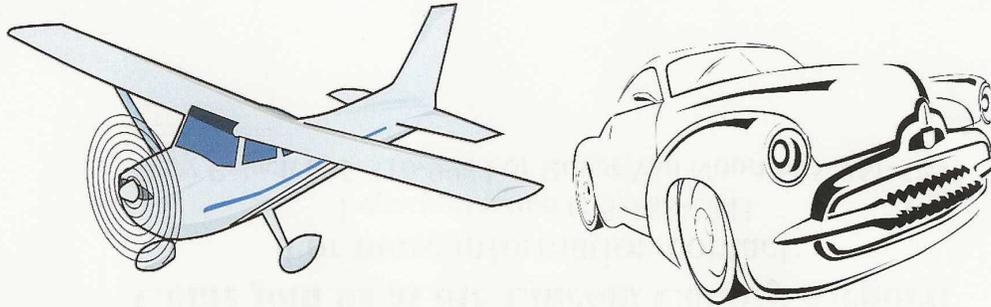

- Partial/full loss of power on takeoff
- Landing gear extension/retraction failure
- Bird strike
- Cabin door opening
- Control problem/failure
- Autopilot/GPS malfunction

Loss of control is a common factor in the event of the unexpected. In some cases, pilot skill and experience has not prevented the loss of control and the result was a fatal accident. These “surprises” may have otherwise been a successful outcome with practice.

So how do you prepare for the “surprise” or the unexpected event?

Be vigilant in your preparation before takeoff. Run these and other events through your mind. Practice what you will do with the actual action or say it out loud. You don't need to be in an airplane. You can even practice these situations at home while sitting in your chair, known as chair flying or use a flight simulator.

The discipline of planning for both positive and negative outcomes is one of the most essential elements in the mysterious mix that makes up the “right stuff” to be a pilot. For a good pilot, that right stuff includes solid training, regular practice, and the discipline to strive for proficiency and perfection on every flight. It includes understanding your aircraft's systems — how they work, how they fail, and how those failures could affect other systems or controls. And as a good friend and mentor of mine always says “Don't forget to fly the airplane, worry about the rest of the stuff once you are on the ground”
