

The Frederick Flyer

President's Message

Greetings EAA Chapter 524 Members and Friends,

As we ready ourselves to celebrate Thanksgiving 2018, I find myself thinking of how much I do have to be thankful for. Certainly there are way too many things for me to list in this publication!

Part of my celebration this year is a week long trip to New England starting Saturday, November 17th. Mary and I drove to Bath, Maine. Our second day plan was to visit Owl's Head Transportation Museum in Rockland, Maine. If you have never visited Owl's Head, I would suggest you do. It has all things to do with transportation – from horse and buggy to airplanes – and everything in between. They have many flying replicas and restored airplanes such as a 1913 Etrich Taube, 1916 Sopwith Scout "Pup", 1918 Standard J-1, Stearman and Waco, to name a few. The unique thing about Owl's Head is that it is a working museum. Almost everything in it is taken out at one time or another during the year and flown, driven or ridden.

The people here were so kind. One of the staff spent almost the entire time we were there with us explaining and letting us get up close to the exhibits.

I did take a few photos when we were there, so I hope you enjoy them. And by all means, try to visit!

Wishing you clear skies and a Happy Thanksgiving,

Mark Gosselin

December Program

Fellow chapter member Jerry Blake has quite a list of accomplishments, not the least of which is the book he wrote about the Wright Brothers. Some of us are lucky enough to own a signed copy (talk with him if you would like one.) Jerry has obviously done extensive research on their accomplishments and has graciously offered to share his knowledge with us. In a two-part series, Jerry will take us inside their world to detail "The Rush to Build the Airplane." Come learn about both the technical challenges and the time constraints involved for them to be the first to fly.

Charlie Becker paid us a visit this month and gave an excellent presentation on getting started in homebuilding. The information he covered was so all-encompassing I was just sorry I had not had the benefit of it before I started my project back in the last century. Before that portion of his program, he gave us an overview of many of the resources made available to chapters by EAA. One of those resources is the Ray Aviation Scholarship Fund which was the subject of a recent webinar. If you were not able to participate, the recording is now posted online here. We will be having discussions in the near future about potential participation by our chapter, so please check this out if you'd like to be part of the discussion.

November Membership Meeting Minutes

01 Nov 2018

Meeting brought to order at 7:01 p.m. by Mark Gosselin

Ernie updated the Chapter on the Cub's restoration progress. One of the wings is in the paint booth and the fuselage has returned to get the external fabric put on.

Rex reported that Mark Forss inquired about the possibility of our Chapter doing a workshop in January.

Charlie Becker presented his program entitled "Getting Started in Homebuilding: Building Your Own Aircraft 101"

The 50/50 was $82 with $41 each to Tim and to the Scholarship Fund.

Meeting concluded at 8:19 p.m.

Submitted,

Erick Webb, Secretary

Chapter Survey Request

We realize this is short notice, but please see the message below from the EAA Chapters Manager and if you have time, click the button to take the survey.

Dear Chapter Leader,

EAA, with input from the Chapter Advisory Council, developed a survey in 2017 designed to help us understand how we can better serve our chapters. EAA will now offer this survey on an annual basis to all chapter members.

We are asking that all EAA chapters share this survey with their membership by simply forwarding this email along to each member on your chapter's mailing list. We would like to have everyone complete the survey by Saturday, December 1.

Once the survey is complete, chapter leaders will have the opportunity to see their results, alongside the aggregate results from the entire chapter network. We believe this survey will provide valuable feedback for your chapter.

To take the survey, click the button below.

Take Survey Now

If you are a chapter leader who would like to receive your individual results, along with the aggregate results from the chapter network, please fill out the request form at this link- Chapter Survey Results Request Form.
