Beaver Valley EAA Chapter 68 founded 1958

Vol.4 Issue 36

To our members:

The old curse we are all familiar with is one that says “ may we all live in challenging times...”

We face an unprecedented situation plagued with lack of information and , most importantly, lack of solution. Until the threat has been neutralized we will all have to search within and decide for ourselves the steps we will take and the attendant risk we will bear.

Our informal gathering on Saturday mornings at the Hot Dog Shop has been a pleasant way for our members, family, and friends to meet and eat.

The reaction to the present crisis demands that we change our routine and take any necessary steps to protect ourselves.

I will leave it to each of us to make our own decisions whether to gather or not. We have a varied membership that may have heightened vulnerability to the present health crisis.

Please consider for yourselves the risks involved and make your decisions, knowing that the crisis will pass, and we will once again resume our daily routine in the future. Until then, I wish good health and safety to all of our members in this challenging time.
