SHORT FINAL...

A NEW Project In Town We seem to be afflicted with a pleasant ailment, an increase of aircraft projects! I'm happy to report that John De Loach is the proud owner of a Glasstar project! The project came complete with a run out Lycoming engine. John picked up the project in early April, but is busy coming up to speed on the prospect of building a kit. By the time you read this, a lot of progress will have been made. Congratulations John! Mark

Project Update: Highlander Well, sometimes an update is must closer to home.. like in my ow hangar! The Highlander has just now been outfitted with her wings for the first time. Loads of work yet to be done.. But it is beginning to look like an airplane. Thanks to Mel and John for providing the grunt work for the initial fitting. Mark

A New Project (and a new neighbor) A few of the guys helped out Chris move his Sonex project into a storage locker on 5/4. Chris has a Bristell and the Sonex project. He also will be building a home in the Southern Landings. Mark
