Airventure 2021: July 26 - Aug 1

As always, Some News from National.

EAA AirVenture Safety Protocols Last updated March 16, 2021.

- EAA members now have the option to receive admissions credentials including wristbands in advance through our Express Arrival program. This is offered at no extra charge when you purchase your tickets online and eliminates the need to go to an admissions building.
- Masks will be strongly recommended if you are unable to social distance (roughly 6 feet or 2 meters).
- Proof of COVID vaccine will not be required to attend.
- International visitation is dependent on current international travel regulations and mandates in the U.S. and individual countries of residence.
- Increased physical distancing will be encouraged in all areas.
- EAA is adding significant numbers of sanitizing facilities and working with industry-leading companies for continual disinfection throughout the grounds.
- Theater in the Woods, forums pavilions, and other outdoor venues will operate with reduced seating capacity, with social distancing opportunities on the open grounds at that location.
- There will be fewer exhibitors in each indoor exhibit building, creating more walkways and separation between exhibitors. Additional venues on the grounds are being re-purposed to accommodate indoor exhibitors that are moved this year.
- Wherever possible, ventilation will be increased in tents and indoor facilities.
- Several annual events where physical distancing is not possible will not be held this year, including the Monday night concert; the Young Eagles, EAA Lifetime Member, and International Visitors dinners; the Runway 5K run/walk; the WomenVenture social, and large corporate events and receptions.
- High-demand forums and presentations will be scheduled more than once to accommodate demand while allowing for distancing.

As always, we invite your ideas and input at feedback@eaa.org. We'll see you on the Oshkosh flight line this summer!

Be sure to go to EAA.org for all the latest news. You will find news of the different air show performers that will be at Airventure 2021.

March 11, 2021 – On Wednesday, the EAA Advocacy and Safety team and the leadership of the EAA Aeromedical Advisory Council met with the new Federal Air Surgeon, Dr. Susan Northrup, and her senior medical staff.

Dr. Northrup and her husband are active general aviation pilots and own both a North American Harvard and a Stearman. Prior to assuming her role as Federal Air Surgeon, Dr. Northrup was the Southeast Regional Flight Surgeon, based in Atlanta.

Dr. Northrup, along with Deputy Federal Air Surgeon Dr. Brett Wyrick, has been pursuing a policy of openness with the aviation community, conducting listening sessions and regular check-ins. At Wednesday's meeting, the FAA staff detailed several initiatives designed to make medical certification easier, faster, and less stressful for applicants.

There are many reforms and policy changes needed in medical certification, and EAA will continue to proactively champion the concerns of our members. Our volunteer Aeromedical Advisory Council led the way on the creation of the Conditions an AME Can Issue (CACI) program and rollback of the original sleep apnea screening policy, and we are excited to work together to achieve more aeromedical policy improvements in the future.

If you have a question regarding medical certification, call EAA at 800-564-6322 or contact govt@eaa.org.

Visit with EAA at the SUN 'n FUN Aerospace Expo

The annual SUN 'n FUN Aerospace Expo is just around the corner, and aviators and EAA members are making plans for the journey down to the unofficial kickoff of the flying season. SUN 'n FUN takes place April 13-18 at Florida's Lakeland Linder Airport (LAL) and will feature the U.S. Navy Blue Angels.

If you plan to attend, don't forget that EAA members can save on admission by using the discount code EAA902 while purchasing online, or by showing an EAA member card at the admission gates. EAA volunteers will be at the main gate to verify memberships and assist with renewals. Members will save $7 on daily tickets and $30 on weekly admission.

EAA will have a number of volunteers and staff members at the EAA booth, located at the intersection of SUN 'n FUN Drive and Laird Drive, to assist members with any EAA needs. Have a question about your membership, want to locate a local EAA chapter, or see what is in store at AirVenture 2021? Swing by and someone will be happy to help!

While at the EAA booth, you'll want to check out the beautiful aircraft on display. A beautiful amphibious AirCam will be on static display, as EAA prepares to celebrate the 25th (Plus 1) Anniversary of the AirCam at EAA AirVenture Oshkosh 2021. Visit EAA.org/AircraftAnniversaries to check out all the featured aircraft anniversaries and gatherings.

Help EAA Grow Participation in Aviation

Spread the word – EAA flight training scholarship applications are open!

If you know someone who dreams of becoming a pilot or is looking to receive an additional rating, EAA is here to help their aviation dreams become a reality.

Through dozens of generous donors, benefactors, and others who “pay it forward” by endowing these programs, EAA awards more than $1 million in aviation scholarship money each year to individuals who are well-rounded and involved in their school or community.

Learn more about the scholarship qualifications at EAA.org/Scholarships. One application qualifies you for multiple scholarships. The scholarship application deadline is June 1, 2021.

February 25, 2021 – EAA AirVenture Oshkosh 2021 is coming and we know it will be worth the wait! In anticipation of getting everyone back to Oshkosh, EAA is looking to spark some excitement for our attendees and members. We're compiling short videos from those who know AirVenture the best: air show performers, volunteers, members, attendees, and our partners! These videos will be featured on EAA's social media channels and the EAA website. We're looking for these videos to be enthusiastic and fun, and get people motivated to attend AirVenture.

It's simple. Just shoot a short video including the following:

1. Introduce yourself
2. Finish this sentence:
 - "AirVenture 2021 will be worth the wait because..."
3. End video with, "See you at Oshkosh!"

Video Requirements:

- Please include your name via email when you send us your video link upon submission.
- Please speak clearly and loudly.
- Record in a space where there is limited background distractions, preferably in front of an airplane or something aviation-related.
- Please make sure background noise is eliminated or significantly reduced before recording.
- For best results, ask a friend or family member to record for you. Please make sure that if you or someone else is recording on a smartphone, that you are holding the phone horizontally while recording.
- Please send video submissions via a Dropbox link or Google Drive link to cbasken@eaa.org.
- Please keep videos short, preferably no longer than 30 seconds.

And it looks like Audrey's Park will be opening back up in May for those of that 'live' in the Park during Airventure. I can hardly wait to be 'home' again.

VIRUS Alert: Know before you go.

Before attending or traveling to any destination or event listed, be sure and email or call ahead to see if the event or destination is open and/or available. Be safe and healthy.

IAC Announces National Aerobatics Day

March 11, 2021 – The skill, beauty, and excitement of aerobatic flight will be celebrated on Saturday, June 26, during the inaugural National Aerobatics Day, as announced by Jim Bourke, President of the International Aerobatics Club (IAC).

"National Aerobatics Day is the perfect day to host an aerobatic camp, a BBQ, a practice session, or to share videos of aerobatic activity online," Bourke said. "With over 40 chapters nationwide and two international chapters, IAC members will be organizing these types of activities and others to engage the public and general aviation pilots in aerobatics."

IAC has established National Aerobatics Day as the fourth Saturday in June each year. It will highlight the dedicated pilots who fly these precision maneuvers as well as the ground support teams that make it possible.

Greg Principato, President and CEO of the National Aeronautic Association, enthusiastically stated: "Aerobatics thrill. They also inspire. And there is no telling to what heights that inspiration will take someone!"

Originally developed as evasive maneuvers during World War I, aerobatics is a proven discipline that builds confidence and improves pilot proficiency. The loops, rolls, hammerheads, and lomcevaks are examples of precision flying at its finest, and most fun!

"There are few things in life and nothing else in aviation that are as joyful and liberating as flying aerobatics," said John Cudahy, President of the International Council of Air Shows. "And the idea of devoting one day each year to celebrating aerobatics is brilliant."

The IAC exists to promote the safety and enjoyment of this great sport — what better way to celebrate than to set aside a special day to recognize the aerobatic community, and engage in sharing a passion that too few get to experience?

More information is available at IAC.org — including IAC chapters throughout the country and IAC contest and events calendars for aerobatic activity on June 26 and year-round!

A note about events

Please call MAPS or check our website, Facebook or Instagram for any updates on the events above if you are planning to attend.

MAPS Air Museum is an internationally known museum of aviation and serves as a center of aviation history for Northeast Ohio. The museum features exciting educational displays of its collection of acquired artifacts, interactive exhibits and historical archives in its own library.

Whether you have an hour or a whole day, there's something for you at MAPS.

If you have never been to the MAPS Museum, I recommend going. It is a fun place to visit. Something for everyone here. Lots of fun. You can either fly in or drive in. Very nice pleasant group of people working there. They have a great giftshop also. Be sure to sign up for their newsletter!

TEXAS BARNSTORMING MUSEUM

Located at Hallettsville, TX Municipal Airfield 34R

I'm reaching out to EAA Chapter Presidents in the hope that you might help us spread the word on our Vans RV-12 raffle with the proceeds benefitting our scholarships drive.

We are a small Aviation museum in South Central Texas, and a 501(c)3 non profit organization, and utilize antique aircraft to teach kids any of the aviation trades, from becoming a Pilot, Engineer, or A&P Mechanic. The museum arose from the realization that kids in our area had little or no exposure to Aviation, and a grass roots effort arose to create the museum, which morphed into the non-profit organization. At no expense to them, the kids learn in a J-3 Cub, and after soloing that, transition into a Grumman Traveler for their PPL. So far, we've been pleased with our graduates, at present we have 5 kids in various Aviation Colleges (not too bad for a town of 2600 population) who will hopefully continue on into various aviation fields. In addition to their flight training, most kids here have flown the Stearman, TravelAir, etc. If they are so motivated, we teach them welding, woodwork, and the other skill sets that go into restoration and maintenance.

The RV12 we are raffling was built by a friend and supporter of the museum, Milton Weikel, who was a lifetime member of the EAA and hadn't missed the annual EAA Fly In in Oshkosh, and before, when it first began in Rockford, IL, ever... not one. Milton built the airplane to completion, flew it about 5 hours, and then began building a "Legal Eagle" when he was stricken with a rare form of cancer and passed. He had a passion for aviation that was just boundless, and was always eager to help the kids. He was a powerful motivating force here, and missed. We painted the aircraft and are at present finishing the certification flights. We will send the aircraft to a Vans specialist to have all the Service Letters complied with immediately prior to the drawing. The airplane is essentially a brand new aircraft, and beautifully constructed (Milton was an engineer by profession and education, and the craftsmanship is just beautiful) We are going to use the proceeds of the raffle benefit our ongoing "Kids in Aviation" scholarships and allow us to begin a new crop of young pilots and mechanics, and will bare the name "The Weikel Scholarship in ...", and will be offered in Engineering, Aviation and A&P Mechanics. In addition to the airplane, several more prizes are offered and have been sponsored by some great aviation companies like David Clark, Sporty's, Aircraft Tool and Supply, and Garmin. I'm continuing to add prizes as the raffle continues.

There is much more information about us on our website (www.whereolddogsfly.org), Facebook (Texas Barnstorming Museum) and in past and upcoming articles in General Aviation News.

If not too much trouble, would it be possible for you to share my letter with the members of your EAA Chapter? The link to the raffle is- <https://rafflecreator.com/pages/41866/vans-rv-12>

Thank you so much for your time and consideration, and if you or your members are in South Central Texas, please stop by! We have 2 yearly fly-ins with about 300 in attendance.

Thanks So Much,

Tailwinds,

Dr. John Clark established the John Alden Clark and Marie Mountain Clark Scholarship to help students interested in aviation, math, and science afford the cost of higher education.

Dr. John Clark was a professor of mechanical engineering at the University of Michigan, and is an accomplished World War II veteran, having flown with the 8th Air Force as a B-17 copilot. Marie Mountain Clark was an accomplished musician and dedicated World War II pilot. Marie was a member of the Women's Air Force Service Pilots (WASP), the first women to serve as pilots in the United States' Air Force.

The John Alden Clark and Marie Mountain Clark Scholarship is intended for graduating high school seniors pursuing a major in a STEM, aviation, or aeronautics field at a Michigan-based college.

International Women's Air & Space Museum

The team at the International Women's Air & Space Museum has been working behind the scenes to revamp our programs and offerings, to ensure that we continue to inform, educate, and inspire. This process includes planning for all scenarios to eventually welcome people back for in-person events, and plan for our continued collections preservation projects. Beginning the week of March 15, the museum will reopen to visitors. We believe it is our responsibility to do so in a measured and responsible way.

All visitors to the Burke Lakefront Airport are required at all times to wear masks that cover both their nose and mouth. If you do not have a mask, the museum has some for purchase both in the online, and at the instore gift shop. Hand sanitizing stations are regularly supplied and available throughout the building. The museum staff regularly disinfects high touch surfaces throughout the day, such as interactive exhibit elements. We are limiting the total number of individuals to enter the gift shop at any given time, and we are following all new information provided by the CDC and State of Ohio Department of Health. If you plan to visit the museum, please continue to self-monitor and if you feel ill, please stay home and visit us at another time. At this time, the museum will not host in-person events. However, we welcome all to participate in our upcoming virtual programs.

For questions, please call 216.623.1111 or email us at info@iwasm.org.

Stay safe. Stay healthy. Mask up. We're in this together! If you are in need of a mask, we are selling some! With a big thanks to museum advisor, Teresa, we have three different patterns to choose from. Pictured is our

A boy's dream, an aeronautical chart, and a bit of creative magic united in 2015 to create Chart it All. Trevor Simoneau, 15, is a student pilot. In 2015, Trevor crafted a plan to finance his future education at Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University and the cost of AvGas with custom, one-of-a-kind shirts printed with aeronautical charts. Trevor is an IB Sophomore at DeLand High School and president of Aviation Explorers 747, a club dedicated to inspiring kids of all ages interested in all aspects of aviation. He also works as an aviation news reporter for Sun 'n Fun Radio.

Today, his small family business offers distinctive clothing and gifts with your choice of aeronautical sectional charts.

Your purchase goes a long way to fuel his dream. Check out the website for all kinds of aviation items that would make fantastic gifts for Christmas or a birthday. Trevor is a little older now, but still has some great ideas!

History of Women in Aviation and Aerospace

Monday, April 5, 2021 at 6:30 p.m. EDT Via Zoom

During this program, join International Women's Air & Space Museum's Executive Director Sara Fisher as we explore the role of women in aviation and aerospace. Participants will learn about their accomplishments, obstacles, and their enduring legacy in all areas of aviation and aerospace. From the first woman to solo a balloon in the 18th century to Bessie Coleman's dream to establish a flight school to the women who briefly called the International Space Station home, this program provides a glimpse into lesser known histories.

The event is FREE and open to the public. Registration is required, and all participants will receive a link to join.

This program is in partnership with the Geauga Parks Foundation's Skywatchers program and Geauga County Public Library.

Led by Collections Manager, Katherine Behnke, this program will provide a glimpse into the collections cared for at the International Women's Air & Space Museum. Learn about the women who underwent testing at the Lovelace facility, and who would make history as the first to undergo astronaut testing beginning in 1961. Now known as the Mercury 13, engage with the history of these remarkable women through the lens of their personal records, flying trophies, and more. This program is in conjunction with the current exhibit on loan to the California Aeronautical University.

This event is free and open to the public. Registration is required and each participant will receive the access link prior to the event. For questions, email info@iwasm.org.

Mercury Women:
Forgotten Link to the Future

April 13, 2021 at 7:00 p.m. EDT

"Women can be Astronauts" headlines the extended remarks of West Virginian Representative Ken Hechler on Thursday, March 15, 1962, during the 87th U.S. Congressional Session. However, it took another 20 years before Sally Ride became the first American woman in space. In this program, learn about the remarkable women who became known as the Mercury 13. Attendees will understand how their efforts eventually aided NASA's acceptance of women in NASA's Astronaut Corps.

Unladylike 2021: Bessie Coleman

Thursday, April 22, 2021 at 12:00 p.m. EDT
Via WebEx Meeting

IWASM is excited to join Lakeland Community College Women's Center for the final event in the Unladylike 2021 series exploring the lasting impact and experience of Bessie Coleman.

Each program includes a 10-minute PBS film from the Unladylike series, which profiles diverse and little-known trailblazing women from the turn of the 20th century, and pairs them with contemporary women who followed in their footsteps. The in-depth look at each woman's life highlights many societal issues that are every bit as relevant today as they were in the early 20th century. The films are fast-paced, colorful, and full of interesting revelations.

Each film screening will be followed by a short discussion led by a special guest. These events are free and open to the public.

This newsletter goes out to all EAA Chapters in Ohio, Indiana, West Virginia, Kentucky and Michigan. It also goes to a lot of the FBO's in those states also.

So, if you are planning to host an event and would like to get it out there, this is a place to do so.

If you are a Chapter that would like an article published in the Ohio Region Chapter Newsletter, please feel free to submit an article to me. Also, if you are a manager of an airport / FBO we would like your articles also. Tell us about an event that is going to take place at your airport, a great restaurant that is on the airfield for those pilots that like those $100 hamburgers.

A great place to visit that is close to the airport where you have a courtesy car or that they are willing to pick up visitors and take them to the location.

If you are a local chapter and are willing to transport visitors of your airport to a local event that is great. Let us know and we can post it here. Afterall, EAA is known for its hospitality.

If someone from your Chapter has a plane, parts, or tools for sale we can include it here.

If you do not want to write an article and would like for me to visit your website / Facebook page and gather my own 'intel' for an article, let me know.

Be sure to let me know if you have a different person that will be sending articles or to receive the newsletter to distribute to your Chapter members.

Please share this with your aviator friends.

I will be starting a comment section so please send your comments as to what you would like to see from Chapters and FBO's.

Thanks to all who sent me an article! Also, even if you do not have an event to talk about or an upcoming event to let us know about, a human-interest article with pics is also welcome. We love to hear about your members. Also please start thinking about the May newsletter. I would like the articles for it by April 20th. Thanks again - Darlene Ford

Be sure to check our EAA's website and download your desktop wallpaper.

They have a new one each month with the calendar and also there are other images of different planes

The website has so many different cool and interesting things on it.
