What's been going on: Well as you probably guessed there is not much to report. Hoping this all changes in the coming months. We should be able to get back to meetings in person at least by the time we head back to the Fulton County Airport and maybe sooner. It seems that things are taking a lot longer than expected to return and even this summer may be iffy. Here's hoping for things to pick up and turn around but we will have to see before we make plans as a club or group outings. If anyone has any ideas for something that we can do that fits into the current environment please bring it up at the meeting or reach out to a board member. It has been a really slow winter for flying for myself but I did manage a nice Sacandaga Lake tour in a way that is special when the lake is frozen. Low and slow! Sorry, the hangar door was frozen so by the time I got going I left the video camera in the bag and therefore no video. Maybe in the next couple weeks I can go again and post some video.

Congratulations to Ed Zwolinski for the great build coverage in the EAA National Sport Pilot Magazine!

UPCOMING:

---

We will have a virtual meeting this month on February 23, 2021. Just a quick meet up so we can all see each other and get some updates. The link and details will be posted on the groups.io club message board.

There are a couple things out there that are possible. The Alton Bay Ice Runway on Lake Winnepesaukee, NH is open right now and it looks like the Hangars Cafe at Sky Acres 44N is staying open on the weekends.

Vice-President ~ Darryl White

Well I started 2021 with a nice 1.5hr. flight on New Year's Day. It was great to be flying again! Went down south to West Glenville, over to Wolf Hollow brewing, over Aaron's and Anne's place in Pattersonville, up to Hiserts where I saw Tony Visco's bird outside the hangar, around Sacandaga and back to the Pines. Missed flying and it great to get out flying again.

Kelly got her vaccine and I am going next month, so we are hopeful to start getting out again traveling and flying. We are not sure about going to Oshkosh this year, but we are keeping our options open. More than all that stuff, I am very much looking forward to seeing all my 602 friends at meetings and events this year! Spring is around the corner so hope to see you all soon!
