

EAA
April Meeting
Columbus, GA

MEETING NOTICE

This months meeting will be held at the First Federal Building on Bealwood Connector at 7:30, Thursday, April 14th.

PROGRAM

Ultralight....Ultralight.....Ultralight.....

Scott Youngblood, local airplane driver and all-round swell fellow, will present our program this month covering what some experts say is the future of general aviation. Scott is very experienced with the Ultralight movement, having been recently appointed a distributor for one particular brand (whose name will be ever kept secret in this publication). Many safety tips should be available during his presentation, as he has also added AOPA Air Safety Foundation UltraLight Pilot Examiner to his list of credentials.

CHAPTER NEWS

Not much news this month. Member's projects must be getting nearer to completion, but no news has been received as to specific progress. Yours truly's Cessna 170A, 1313D, is currently undergoing it's annual... So far, one bad cylinder has shown up and is being repaired. Hopefully, this will be the extent of the surprises involved in the annual.

AIRPORT NEWS

The airport plans for expansion as explained by Gary Jackson at our recent meeting have now been made public in the newspapers.. Guess this means that it is for real.

COMING EVENTS

Fly-Ins galore. As a reminder, April 30 and May 1, Roy E. Bates Field near Mobile. Slocumb, Ala. April 15, 16,17 (15 S.W. of Dothan, Alabama). Our own fly-out to Mississippi to be discussed at meeting. Last but not least, The Eastern Cessna 195 Association plans an early June event at Callaway Gardens Airport, Pine Mountain, GA. This should be a rare opportunity to see these fine old round-engined birds on display.
