

EAA Chapter 667
May 1980

Hi Flyer,

The May meeting of EAA Chapter 667 will be at 7:30 10 May 1980 at the First Federal Building on the Beallwood Connector. The same place as the February meeting.

For the program... Ray Yettaw is going to tell us about his original design aircraft and how he came up with it. Also, Bill Miller of Zenair Atlanta is coming down to talk to us about building metal aircraft, particularly Zenith metal aircraft. So , it should be an interesting evening.

Chapter 38's Fly In got rained out, but LeRoy Storey and Harold Buck flew over anyway and met Russ Bone, the Chapter President and were quite impressed with his Baby Ace. They have tentatively scheduled Vernon Haines, Atlanta GADO homebuilt inspector to address their meeting in June. His subject will, of course, be on getting homebuilts certificated. Considering how FAA has cut way back on employee travel, if any of us are getting close to an inspection, it might be worthwhile to visit Chapter 38 in June and hear what this fellow has to say. As a matter of interest, there is a real strong rumor going about to the effect that the FAA inspectors will not be allowed to travel unless there are several aircraft that they can get on one trip. Which means substantial delay in some cases getting your airplane inspected.

Well, that's about it this time. See you on the 10th.
