A Message from Chapter 732 President

Hello everyone. We don't have speaker for this month but we have some things that need to be discussed in chapter business. Nothing earth shaking but I feel we need to keep you informed on things concerning the chapter. We have this month's main dish. Dee is saying Mississippi pot roast over rice. Rice is optional it will be separate. Hope to see you on Sunday.

Thanks Rich

Trip Report 2023. By Gerald Resh

Blakesburg, IA

Had a good trip this month in my 1946 Aeronca Chief. Dad and I left Wedington Woods, and ended up in the Upper Peninsula, Michigan and back home. We landed at Blakesburg, IA for the AAA antique fly-in and Oshkosh, WI on the way up. On the way back, we landed at Brodhead, WI for the MAAC antique fly-in and Galesburg, IL for the National Stearman fly-in. Round trip was 25.5 hours and 1800 miles, all in a non-electric, hand-propped airplane.

For the love of Granddaughters

Submitted By Bud Keil

I submitted an article to the Editor of Sport Aviation of my granddaughter and I spending some quality airplane time. It was published in the September 2023 issue of Sport Aviation.

If any members have a copy of the September 2023 issue of Sport Aviation magazine that they have finished reading, my wife would appreciate having extra copies for her scrapbooks. Thanks

Bud Keil

AS WE FLIPPED THROUGH the pages, my granddaughter's eyes sparkled with excitement looking at the vibrant photographs of airplanes and the beautiful settings. Each page revealed new airplanes of various colors. What made this experience truly magical was the power of imagination.

Beyond the educational aspect, this simple activity allowed us to connect on a deeper level. As we paged through the magazine, she nestled in my lap, snacking on her banana, pointing excitedly at the pictures and telling me what she saw. Granted her vocabulary is still developing, but she spoke with such enthusiasm that I could not help but acknowledge whatever she was telling me. It was a precious, albeit infrequent, bonding moment.

In this digital age, it is refreshing to step away from the television, put down the smartphone, and spend quality time with those you love. So, whether it's an airplane magazine, picture book, or other reading material, embark on these adventures together as these fleeting moments will leave a lifetime of memories.
