Old Business / Open Issues

Wings & Wheels 2022: Meeting of August 9th at 6:30 p.m. at AHC to brainstorm had 4 attendees available. Engage other service groups / clubs such as The Flying Club and The Sharks. Perhaps drone flying demos in an enclosed space / cage, etc. to garner interest of children.

Membership Growth- various ideas were discussed to enhance membership.

Reach out to local schools including college/university levels.

Offer drone flying classes, simulator training.

Drone racing or other type of competition.

Dave Rudd to contact the Sharks Club for possible demo.

DC-3 status - now under ownership of a separate entity – AHC North Central DC3 LLC. Glenn reports, as of now, significant funding is needed to finish the work to fully, functionally restore the plane. Inquiries with some interested parties to help with funding are in process. To-date no funds are available to begin any restorative work.

New Business

November elections – Officers and Directors – Need to elect President, Vice President and all Directors. Submit nominations to Chapter Secretary Kyle Hokel.

Bruce Becker suggests AHC/ Chapter 766 consider an Automatic External Defibrillator for potential on-site needs. Chapter to consider pending inquiry as to status of any existing equipment on the grounds.

Ray Scholler donation to Chapter 766 received.

Chapt. 766 - AHC Liaison -Tony Kolar- Announces that the AHC has a new Education Director, Brian Edmondson. Welcome Brian.

Lee Kunze notes -

- Kelch Museum located on Brodhead, WI is interested in any items AHC may wish to donate or exchange.

- has a contact who would consider donating a partially constructed, complete Sonex kit including engine if a committed group would be interested in building. Chapter will consider.

Agenda for Next Meeting- TBD

Hybrid meetings are planned through November 2021.

Adjournment

Meeting concluded at 7:50 p.m.

Notes from Fly-Rite's Perfect Preflight Brief

DELIA's TOP TEN TIPS!

Top ten tips to get a better briefing:

- 1) Use a checklist to ensure you check all pertinent items.
- 2) Take the 5-10 minutes to sit down, take notes and be attentive.
- 3) Take a defensive approach: What weather might I encounter?
- 4) When calling flight service, follow along on 1800wxbrief.com
- 5) Red flag if forecasts and currents aren't similar
- 6) Assume the worst will happen and ALWAYS HAVE AN OUT!
- 7) Know your limits and stick to them.
- 8) Log onto 1800wxbrief.com to get updates on adverse weather.
- 9) Get a standard brief within 2 hours of flight, update within 30 min.
- 10) Educate yourself on aviation weather.

WEATHER KILLS:

Make sure you get/conduct a full standard weather brief within 2 hours of your flight and if questionable weather, get an update within 30 minutes of flight time. Many adverse conditions are unforecast. You must know how to analyze satellite, radar and charts if you want to stay safe.

Pristine DC-3 Model Joins the EAA Aviation Museum Collection

For the past half-century or so, Bob Lutz has been one of the top executives in the automotive industry – notably serving as a leader for Ford Motor Company, Chrysler Corporation, and General Motors during a long and legendary career. Along with his obvious passion for automobiles, Bob, who is a member of the Automotive Hall of Fame, is also a former aviator with the U.S. Marine Corps and has owned and flown a number of jet warbirds throughout his life. Now in his late 80s, one of Bob's primary hobbies is building paper aircraft models – from scratch. Click here to read the entire article. EAA eHotline
