Editors Notes

Greetings from your editor's tiedown at the edge of the Wausau airport. Like most of you, I'm just cooling down from the sights, sounds and experiences of Oshkosh '98. Weatherwise, it was one of the most perfect in my memory. In my minds eye I can still see Oscar Bosch doing his aerial ballet in his beautiful sailplane, his wingtip smoke generators inscribing his path on the blue backdrop of sky. Nor can I forget the parade of ultralights over me as I prepared my early morning and late evening meals just off the north end of the UL runway.

Many of us have to fit in Oshkosh days around our personal schedules, thus making it necessary to concentrate on the things we most want to experience and see. I hope that many of our readers will share their experiences and observations at Oshkosh with us for future editions of the newsletter.

I arrived early on Thursday to attend the newsletter editor seminar in the Vette Theater at the museum. I came away with new ideas which Mark, Tom and I hope to incorporate in future newsletters. We must always bear in mind, this is our chapter newsletter and it must be tailored to the needs of our chapter members. We welcome and need input from our members to best serve you. Don't hesitate to call me with an idea for an article or with information valuable to the rest of the members. This includes pictures and ideas obtained from other publications.

During my wanderings at Oshkosh I stopped at the Chapter Headquarters building and had a nice talk with the new Chapter Administrator, Kari Disterhaft, a lovely and knowledgeable young lady. (I have a picture to prove her pulchritude!) We made sure our chapter 75 flag was properly located on the U.S. map. With her help I was able to arrange a meeting with EAA's medical advocate and came away from that meeting with a new lease on a third class medical. It made me more aware that the EAA is there for us if we have a problem. All we have to do is ask.

During my explorations I also ran into Carl Greene from Crivitz, Wisconsin whom I had met at our chapter 75 meeting in the gazebo during Pioneer Days weekend. Carl said his newly completed Flightstar II was on display at the Flightstar tent. I checked it out later. What a beauty! Congratulations on a job well done, Carl. We wish you happy flying and hope you see fit to join our chapter. We'd be proud to have you as a member.

Steve Krueger just gave me an update on Carl and his plane that must be included in this narrative. It seems that on Saturday, following my visit with Carl, the Flightstar representative used Carl's plane to give a demonstration flight to the pilot who flew the Concord into Oshkosh. He was full of praise for the plane and said it was his best flight of the day. We're anxious to hear more of the details Carl. The least he could have done was give you equal stick time in the Concord!

As I said earlier, we'd love to hear from you. Keep those calls and letters coming and don't forget to use the Buy Trade Sell column as well.
